

I forgot to add in my first comment: I'd like to see a LOT more unlicensed spectrum available. That will allow for more innovation in the market place. And to have the ability to have 20+ non overlapping frequencies available will help a lot when dealing with spectrum congestion. Some spectrum below 1ghz would be good too. 2.4GHz and up are of little use in heavily treed regions.

Thanks!